- I let go of resentment and allow God's love to heal my body, mind and heart
- I let go of complaining, open to see only God as our good
- I let go of anxiety, moving through to re-centre in God's calming presence
- I let go of outdated beliefs, open to the new potential here for me now
- I let go of struggle to experience life through Divine grace
- I let go of blame and view every experience through the light of understanding, acceptance and peace
